Bonus Tips

- Learn Basic French Phrases: While many Parisians speak English, learning a few basic French phrases such as "hello" (bonjour), "thank you" (merci), and "excuse me" (pardon) can go a long way and is appreciated by locals.
- Be Respectful of Cultural Norms: Parisians value politeness and manners, so remember to greet people with a "bonjour" when entering any establishment. Avoid loud conversations in public places and adhere to dress codes at upscale establishments.
- Keep your metro ticket after use. Metro police will occasionally check. If you throw away your metro ticket and don't have it to validate your purchase, you will be fined.
- Take Advantage of Free Activities: Enjoy free activities and attractions in Paris, such as visiting public parks and gardens like Luxembourg Gardens, exploring street art in neighborhoods like Belleville, or attending free concerts and events.
- Embrace the Parisian Lifestyle: Slow down and savor the moments in Paris. Enjoy leisurely strolls along the Seine River, linger at sidewalk cafes while people-watching, and immerse yourself in the city's vibrant cultural scene.
